LIFE SCIENCES

Date– 19/-07/2021 to 30/07/2021

The Department of Microbiology and Biotechnology, in collaboration with MSI, organized a calendar-making competition centered around the theme of Life Science. The event aimed to foster creativity and self-awareness among students. The winners were Ms. Kanchan Selukar, Ms. Manali Kakde, and Mr. Sanghrash Khonde (MSc II Year), as well as Ms. Sharvari Kshirsagar, Ms. Sharwari Halmare, and Mr. Sarvesh Bagde (BSc III Year CMBT). They were honored on December 28, 2021, at Science College, Congress Nagar, Nagpur, for their outstanding contributions.

Action taken: A total of 30 students participated in this competition. The competition inspired students to channel their creativity into artistic designs, exploring the multifaceted realm of life sciences. By encouraging participants to engage deeply with the theme, the event promoted both artistic expression and self-discovery. The winning designs not only reflected a profound understanding of life sciences but also showcased the participants' creative talents. Beyond offering a platform for artistic endeavors, the competition underscored the value of merging scientific concepts with artistic innovation, highlighting how these disciplines can enrich and inform one another.

Calendar competition winners honored on 28/07/2021
