"NATURE'S THREAD COMPETITION" RULES

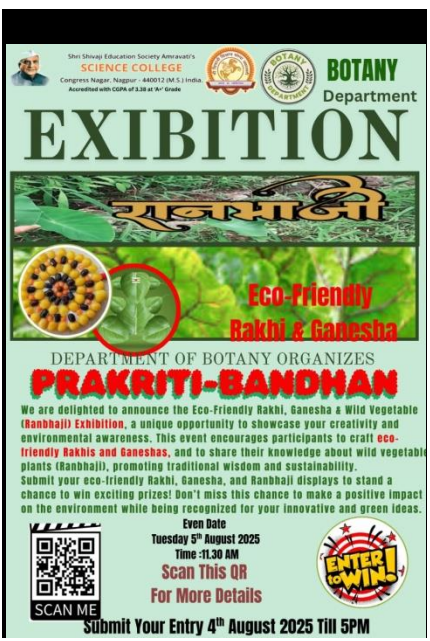

- Materials and Prohibitions: Use only natural and eco-friendly materials (e.g., plant leaves, flowers, grains, seeds, jute, cotton). Plastic or synthetic materials are strictly prohibited.
- Design and Creativity: Rakhis should be original, aesthetically pleasing and practical for tying. Creativity and innovative designs are encouraged.
- Durability: Ensure Rakhis are durable enough to last through the festive occasion.
- Submission and Labeling: Submit Rakhis by [specific date and time]. Each entry must be labeled with the participant's name and contact details.
- Judging and Disqualification: Entries will be judged on creativity, use of eco-friendly materials, and overall presentation. Rakhis containing prohibited materials will be disqualified.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON RANBHAJI ALLOCATION

For the Ranbhaji Exhibition and the preparation of wild vegetable dishes, students must confirm their selected wild vegetables with the department through Dr. Sharayu S. Deshmukh, Dr. A. M. Katogye, and Dr. R. P. Sonwalkar by the final registration date: 03/08/2025. This centralized process ensures the quality and diversity of the wild vegetables, avoids duplication, and maintains the overall standards of the exhibition. This step is mandatory.

RANBHAJI EXHIBITION RULES

For the Wild Vegetable (Ranbhaji) Exhibition and preparation, students must display only authentic wild vegetables in clean, attractive pots with proper labeling, include common and scientific names. A brief note on uses and benefits should be provided. Dishes must be hygienically prepared and attractively presented. Use of synthetic fertilizers or pesticides is prohibited. Exhibitors must manage their setups and be available to interact with visitors. Judging will be based on plant health, creative educational value, taste, and presentation.

Prakruti Bandhan: Nature’s Embrace – Eco-Friendly Rakhi Creations & Aromatic Plant Exhibition

The upcoming festival of Raksha Bandhan was celebrated in a unique and environmentally friendly way on 16th August 2024 with the successful organization of the “Nature’s Embrace: Eco-Friendly Rakhi Creations” competition and an Exhibition of Aromatic Plants under the banner of *Prakruti Bandhan. The event saw active participation from students, promoting the values of sustainability and creativity. The event was inaugurated by Dr. O. S. Deshmukh, Principal, whose presence added great significance to the occasion. Distinguished guests Dr. R. Y. Deshmukhand Dr. Haldar also graced the event, adding to its prestige and encouragement for participants. The Head of the Department, Dr. R. H. Mahakhode, alongside the convener, Dr. Mrs. Sharayu S. Deshmukh, and co-conveners Dr. Anita Katgaye and Dr. R. P. Sonwalkar, effectively managed and coordinated the entire event. Their efforts were supported by faculty members and ad-hoc teachers, who contributed to the event’s success. The competition was themed ‘‘Nature’s Embrace: Eco-Friendly Rakhi Creations’’, where students showcased their creativity by crafting colorful rakhis using biodegradable materials. This initiative not only emphasized the importance of traditional values but also highlighted the need for eco-friendly practices in our daily lives. The rakhis, reflecting vibrant designs and thoughtful concepts, were a testament to the students’ dedication to the cause of environmental conservation.

In conjunction with the competition, an Exhibition of Aromatic Plants was held, where various aromatic plants and related products were displayed. The exhibition was meticulously planned, offering a platform for students and attendees to explore the diverse uses and benefits of aromatic plants in everyday life. The innovative presentation of the products added a dynamic element to the exhibition, garnering appreciation from all. After thorough evaluation, four outstanding rakhi creations and four exceptional aromatic plant exhibitions were selected as winners. These talented students were honored with certificates and trophies, recognizing their hard work, creativity, and commitment to promoting eco-friendly practices. Dr. O. S. Deshmukh praised the efforts of both the students and faculty, emphasizing the importance of such initiatives in fostering a sense of environmental responsibility among the younger generation. The creative use of biodegradable materials and the well-planned exhibition of aromatic plants were particularly commended. The event concluded on a high note, with participants, guests, and organizers sharing a sense of accomplishment and pride in contributing to a greener, more sustainable future.
